of relevance again. I don't see this has anything to do with the pending litigation, and I think it's time that we contact the master and ask him if he can take some time off today and attend.

And I'll further state for the record that the purpose of this is for Mr. Liebeler and his firm to find out where evidence of a crime committed by his client is so they can destroy the evidence. That's why it's being asked. That's why it's objectionable.

MR. LIEBELER: You're absurd, Mr. Hogan, absolutely absurd.

MR. HOGAN: Perhaps you can make some foundation for your request, then, Mr. Liebeler.

MR. LIEBELER: The foundation for my request is Mr. Berry is suing Fleming in litigation in various places. That's going to come in at trial in this case. He has a vendetta against my client. The jury is perfectly entitled to hear that.

MR. HOGAN: As to the location of his records is irrelevant to that. And, again, I renew my statement --

MR. LIEBELER: Because I'm going to be permitted to find those records for purposes of assessing the merits of that litigation for purposes of showing it's meritless here.
